MANY WHO BOUGHT BONDS TO BUY ANOTHER ONE

Total subscriptions to the Third Liberty Loan in Coshocton county now amount to $746,900 and it is expected that several more thousand dollars will be added before the week closes.

The Central Liberty Loan committee told President Wilson yesterday that more than ten million Americans had subscribed to the Third Liberty Loan, but that a great many who had subscribed could buy one more $50 bond by paying for it on the installment plan. The President has purchased all the bonds he can well afford but he said he would go in for another $50 bond paying $5 down and $5 per month. If one million Americans will match him, the President will sign an application for this bond this week. It is hoped that the President's proposition will induce thousands who have already subscribed to take another bond on the installment plan.

GERMANS BREAK LULL IN INFANTRY ACTION WITH NIGHT ATTACK

Thrust is Made at Theninnes Ten Miles Southeast of Amiens and is Repulsed by French and Possibly Americans — Other Attacks Unsuccessful.

BULLETIN.
By FLOYD MacGRIFF
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, MAY 2.—The Germans broke the lull in the infantry fighting on the Picardy front last nght by attacking at Theninnes, 10 miles southeast of Amiens.

The attack was repulsed, the French war office announced today. The Germans delivered other attacks north of Chavignon, and northwest of Rheims, but all were unsuccessful.

(Theninnes is five miles south of Villers-Bretenneux and it is possible that Americans may be fighting with the French in that district.

LONDON, MAY 2.—German artillery activity increased on both the Flanders and Picardy battle fronts this morning.

The war office announced strong bombardments, especially in the sectors of Villers-Bretenneux and Merris.

(Villers-Bretenneux lies about nine miles east of Amiens. Merris is eight miles northwest of Armentieres, and eleven miles southwest of Ypres.)

German guns were active over a wide area thruout the night, shelling British positions around Arras, Lens, and St. Venant.

The text of the official report follows:

"The enemy's artillery developed considerable activity early this morning in the Villers-Bretenneux sector and in the neighborhood of Merris.

"There was some activity also during the night around Arras, Lens and St. Venant.

The deadlock which developed on the Picardy and Flanders' battle fronts following the severe defeat administered by the Anglo-French forces to the German on Monday along the Franco-Belgian frontier, was unbroken today. There were indications, however, that a renewal of infantry operations would be forth coming soon, for the artillery activity was increasing in both zones of battle.

The Germans concentrated their heaviest fire in the sector of Villers-Bretenneux, nine miles east of Amiens, where Americans beat off a strong German attack on Tuesday, and around Merris on the Flanders' front.

Merris is between six and seven miles east of Hazebrouck, one of the chief local objectives of the Germans in the north. For a long while that sector of the northern zone has been comparatively quiet, while the Germans centered their assaults immediately outwest of Ypres in a desperate effort to compel the British to give up a row of hills in the Loere La Clytte district will eventually bring about the evacuation of Ypres.

In spite of the German offensive has been temporarily paralyzed by the stiffened resistance of the allied forces and notwithstanding the terrific losses they have suffered, the Germans are expected to continue their efforts to break thru.

The Verdun offensive began on February 21, 1916, and it was not until far in the following summer that the gave up their efforts to capture it and press back the French line near the Meuse river.

The Germans are in better position for carrying on a big offensive now than they were then, as they have not got Russia to contend with as practically all of the German army

WHAT THE WAR CHEST MOVEMENT MEANS

Coshocton county faces the biggest task in its history. The greatest war since the dawn of civilization is coming home to all of us at last. Patriotic movements in Coshocton county during the past year have been mere skirmishes compared with the mighty effort which now confronts the people of this community.

We can't lick Kaiser Bill with words. Each one of us must act and put the greatest possible force into our action. We hear such expression as: "Isn't it awful? It's terrible" and "I do hope this war will end soon" and it surely is sad to see our boys go to war." No doubt these expressions are well meant but the trouble is they don't accomplish much toward bringing about the desired end. It's probable that Kaiser Bill would merely chuckle if he could hear some of the things that are being said about him here in Coshocton. He knows that we must hurl bullets, not words, at him if we are to succeed in stopping him in his mad attempt to conquer the world.

Therefore, the next few weeks in Coshocton county are going to be history-making ones. The work is being undertaken with appreciation of the size of the task and in a systematic, business-like manner it is expected to put at least $150,000 in the county war chest. From the spirit indicated by all kinds and conditions of citizens thruout the city and county war chest workers are confident that the goal will be not only safely reached, but heavily oversubscribed. Other Ohio counties have succeeded in accomplishing the result desired and there's no reason why Coshocton county can't do just as well or better.

These are the days of preparation. Each and every citizen of the county, whether he be a property owner, wage earner or employer, must be in a receptive mood and with his mind made up to give his full share or a little more, when the solicitors start forth in their three day canvass for weeks hence.

There'll be father explanations thru the press and several public meetings before the drive actually opens on June third as the widest possible publicity is desired in order that all citizens may be fully acquainted with the aims and methods of the campaign.

These good people who are to go from house to house and from place to place are asking nothing for themselves. It is their affair no more than it the affair of every man and woman in the county. They are simply acting as agents, in a sense, for the people of Coshocton county, in a splendid work as was ever proposed. They are entitled to a prompt hearing and to the fullest co-operation of every one whose head is right.

You are going to be asked to give BIG contributions, not little ones, this time. It's a concentrated effort to provide a big enough fund to take care of Coshocton county's share in financing the war for a whole year. It's going to be the real test of your patriotism. And in the next few weeks those in charge of the work are going to get a line on the giving capacity of each individual so that they will know whether each one is performing his full patriotic duty. You don't want to be branded as a SLACKER. Of course you don't. American boys, perhaps some of your relatives and neighbors, are giving their lives over on the Western Front. Surely you are willing to part with some of your cash.

Will the ampaign be a success? Of course it will. If you and I and all of us make up our minds to sacrifice just a small per cent of our filthy here we can do a wonderful lot of good in helping to win. Will you do it? Can you afford to do anything else? The men who are backing this great movement have faith in you. Do not disappoint them.

Struggle Is OnlyBegun InTheWest

Paris Paper Sees More Bloodshed Ahead Before Hun Attempt Ends.

VICTORY CERTAIN

PARIS, MAY 2.—"We are only at the beginning in the struggle," said the Petit Parisien today, in commenting on the course of the great double battle on the Picardy and Flanders' fronts.

"The fight is not finished," the paper went on. "The enemy has not relaxed his unceasing bombardments and is bringing up reinforcements."

Other military critics take the view that Hindenburg has been outmanoeuvered. It is no longer a matter of following the variation of the battle line but solely calculating the price it costs the enemy to gain yard by yard. Thus, Hindenburg, who condemned the folly at Verdun, finds himself similarly involved.

American troops fighting with the French on the Picardy front have been actually engaged with the Germans for the first time beating off an attack after severe hand to hand fighting.

The location of the American troops was revealed as being in the sector of Villers Bretenneux, about nine miles east of the British base at Amiens.

Villers Bretenneux itself is held by the British. The German assault was preceded by an intense bombardment of two hours and the infantry action lasted some time. The German losses were heavy and the Americans also lost a considerable number of men it was said.

MISS FREDERICKSON GREATLY IMPROVED

Dr Lisser Pomerene was in communication with Dr. Linsay in Columbus, Thursday morning and was informed that Miss Mary Fredericksons condition was greatly improved. Miss Frederickson who has been critically ill from pleural pneumonia rallied from a crisis Wednesday afternoon and passed a comfortable night.

Miss Frederickson of South Fourth street is attending the Columbus School For Girls and has been ill there for the past ten days.

SAMMIES IN IT

Americans are now right in the thick of the fighting in the Picardy battle, which with the twin engagement in Flanders, constitutes the mightiest struggle the world has ever seen.

The British war office announced today an increase in the German artillery activity in the sector of Villers Bretenneux (opposite the American forces) near which place the Americans beat off a strong attack on Tuesday. Villers Bretenneux has been the scene of fierce fighting since the German offensive began.

"PUT NONE BUT AMERICANS ON GUARD."

We have always been taught that a chain is only as strong as its weakest link yet continue to allow Germans to occupy positions of trust and in consequence are having almost daily fires of suspicious origin and other peculiar things for which no one seems able to account. The argument put forth as a rule is, 'But not all Germans are bad.' Granted—but we have pretty conclusive evidence that a great many of them are

Tell me this How many Americans occupy positions of trust in Germany today

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, MAY 1.—When Miss Jane Gray understood to do janitorial duties the other day and donned overalls to facilitate things, she at once became the object of search of two secret service men.

They were on the trail of an army deserter. They were told that he had been seen going into the house where Miss Gray lives. When they suddenly appeared, Miss Gray confronted them wearing her overalls.

"Come along, Albert," they said. "We want you."

"Don't be silly," said Miss Gray. "I'm a girl." Then she took off her cap and a heavy mop of hair fell over her shoulders.

"What are your names?" she inquired

"We have no names today," they replied. "We have no goats left, ither."

Look young! Nobody can tell if y... usGrandmother's simple recipe Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyenth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this thru your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes —Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

TEUTON HEADS PLAN CONFAB

NEWARK—Newark's four thousand school children have purchased $60,600 worth of Thrift Stamps and War Savings Certificates, according to announcement made by the local war stamps committee.

From Harvey David, Co. C. 116th Engineers, A. E. F., to his sister, Mrs. Nora Shuck, of North Second street.

March 24, 1918.

Dear Sister:

This being Sunday, I will write you a few lines. I am feeling fine, and hope you are also. I like it here very much. Everything is strange and interesting to us.

We sure had a great trip on the water, and I didn't get the least bit seasick. In fact, very few of us did.

The French people are very polite and nice and treat us fine. I only wish I could speak French. Would be all set then.

I think I will be home by Xmas, and maybe before that; could stay here, tho and be very well contented.

I haven't seen Kaiser Bill yet. Would like to get a glimpse of his mug once.

I'm going down town this afternoon and get some things I need, and take a look at some of the girls. There are some humdingers here.

Some of the Camp Sherman boys are still with me, so you know, it's not like being with strangers.

We are pretty busy here right now. We get plenty of good eats, and everything we want, so we have no kick coming so far.

Our mail is censored, so we can't write very much about our whereabouts or what we are doing, and that makes it hard for us to write a letter over here.

Tell everybody that I send my best regards, and for them to write.

From Carl D. Severns, Co. D. 11th Engineers, A. E. F., to Floyd Severns, Warsaw:

March 29, 1918.

Dear Floyd:

I will now drop you a few lines to let you know I am well and always ready for my three square meals a day. They feed us well here. We get more to eat than we did at Camp Sherman. But we sure do drill.

The officers are all fine men, which makes it more pleasant for us.

France is a very pretty country. There customs are very different from what they are in the United States. The wagons only have two wheels on them, and they just have to have one horse hitched to them. But they haul almost as much as we would with two horses, for their roads are all pike, and you never see a horse that weighs less than 1500 pounds. They weigh from that to 1800. When they plow they have one horse hitched ahead of the other. I see some of them plowing with one horse. They don't have any lines on them either. The plows are like the riding plows in the United States, only they don't ride. They just walk along beside the horses with a whip. Once in a whole, when they have a young horse, they lead it.

Their fields are all laid out in two or three acre lots, and that is every bit of ground they have. You don't see any brush along the fence rows or any place else.

Their buildings are all made of cement. I haven't seen a building made of lumber.

We get the war news every evening. There are a couple of American papers printed here in France.

I must close. Hoping this letter finds you all well.

The following letter has been received from Wilbur Wiggins who is in France:

Dear Mother:

I thot I would write you a few lines to let you know that I received your letter alright. I am getting along just fine and hope you all are too.

I suppose you have been worried about me because you don't hear very often. It takes a long time for a letter to reach you. You need not worry, if you don't hear from me for six weeks at a stretch. I received a letter from Cleave and Belle Wiggins yesterday. Tell them I was glad to hear from them.

Have father tell the girls at the factory I asked them to write and said hello to them. I got a letter from one of the girls at the Novelty recently. Oscar Lowe is getting along fine.

I hope to get home within four or five months. We all have plenty to eat and good places to sleep. We expect to get back by the time the snow falls. Will close as I have several other letters to write.

WILBUR WIGGINS,
Co. I, U. S. Inf. 166th,
A. E. F. in France.

From Harry J. Sniden, 441st Aero Construction Squadron, Vancouver, Wash., to Claudie Cramblett, Coshocton, route 2.

April 7, 1918.

Dear Friend:

I have sent you two or three post cards and haven't heard from you yet so I thot I would send you a letter to find out whether you are living or not. I am feeling O. K. and hope you are the same. Army life is about a usual here. We have to drill every day except Sunday.

I haven't all of my uniform yet. I am so big and tall it is hard to get a uniform that will fit. Was on guard duty last Monday evening till Tuesday evening at the Mill. It was my first time on guard and I got along fine. But there are things I like better than guard duty. The mill where I was on guard is some place. There are about 1000 men employed there, getting out spruce lumber for airplanes. The mill is guarded day and night by the soldiers from here. We have to go on ... about every 10 days.

Was over to Portland yesterday in a big dress parade. There were several thousand soldiers in the parade and ... we marched all over the principal streets of Portland, and I was ... last night when I got back. We went over in automobile trucks ... certainly had some time on the way there and back.

We have ... every day at eleven oclock ... keeps us pretty busy between drilling hours, cleaning up and keeping our ... clean, so that we can pass inspection. If the officer catch you with a dirty rifle, they make you do extra guard duty, or work in the kitchen so it pays to be on the job and keep everything clean.

We have a baseball team in our company, and some good musicians so there is no chance of getting lonesome.

Wishing you good luck,
Your friend
HARRY.

Today's War Situation

The news coming from the Flanders battle field during the past twenty four hours has emphasized the severity of the staggering blow which the allies struck at the Germans on Monday and Monday night along the front southwest of Ypres.

The exhausted and defeated German columns were hurt up short and the shattered lines have not been able to renew the engagement. Taking advantage of the Germans condition the French delivered fresh thrusts in the Locre sector and improved their positions.

(Locre in Belgium was the village which the French gained yesterday when they drove the Germans from a slender footing which they had obtained there. It is on high ground and its possession gives the French troops a big advantage in that region.)

On the Picardy battle line (in front of Amiens,) artillery duels of extreme violence continue. The bombardments have been especially severe in the sector of Hangard and Villers Bretenneux, where the British have been attacking and extending their lines.

There has been a long lull in big scale infantry operations on this front, but now that the Germans have been halted all along the line in the Flanders' zone, they may again switch their pressure to Picardy.

General Foch the generalissimo of the allies, is showing himself complete master of the situation and a match for Von Hindenburg. Without losing a fraction of the men sacrificed by the Germans, he has halted the German hordes and driven them back at some points.

Despite the allied success all along the line it may be said that the real counter offensive of the entent forces has not yet been launched. Apparently the psychological moment has not arrived.

Further German attacks are looked for, but the reason in which they will fall can only be guessed. Many European military critics look for the next heavy strokes to come in the district around Arras.

The interallied war council (in which the United States is represented) was scheduled to meet today at Versailles and it was expected that the discussion would relate chiefly to countermeasures against the Germans on the twin battle fronts.

This was the forty-second day of the German great offensive.

ALLIED LOSSES ARE ONE TENTH THOSE OF HUN

PARIS, MAY 2.—The general situation on the battle front is clearing in favor of the allies, Premier Clemenceau has said in the chamber of deputies. This same sentiment is echoed in the press.

Marcel Hutin, one of the best known of the French war correspondents, declared today that the German offensive in Flanders is in its last throes.

The Echo De Paris dwells upon the severity of the German losses, saying that losses of the allies are only one tenth those of the Germans.

TOLEDO'S REDLIGHT DISTRICT BECOMES HISTORY TOMORROW

Women Threaten to Parade and Demand of Church People They Be Given Chance.

TOLEDO, O., MAY 1. Tonight will mark the passing of the segregated district in Toledo and, according to estimates, about 1,200 resort keepers and inmates will be affected.

As the result of an investigation made here recently by Federal agents, the Government asked that the "red light" district be closed up, as this city is an important point of transfer for sailors and soldiers on their way to the country's service. It was felt that the conditions here constituted a menace to their welfare.

On the order of the Mayor, police officials have caused all resorts to be notified that they will close tomorrow. An effort is being made to get the women employment in industrial establishments, where they can make a respectable living.

Considerable interest is being shown in what the women will do tomorrow ... the order takes effect. There have been threats that they will leave their place of abode and will form a parade and will march to the homes of ministers and church workers demanding that they be given a fair chance to start over and to make a legitimate living and that they not be forced to leave the city without chance to make good.

Whether the parade will materialize is not known, as the police have not expressed themselves in regard to allowing or forbidding it.

A SIGN OF PROGRESS.

Governor Whitman, of New York, has taken note of the land problem in its relation to the food shortage. This does not appear, however, in a message to the Legislature, but, like his suggestions concerning abolition of poverty, in an address to an unofficial body, The New York State Agricultural Society.

An important phase of the food situation, he declares to be "the necessity of bringing back under cultivation the idle land of the state." The census of 1910 showed that 600,000 acres of formerly cultivated land has ceased to be worked, and he suggests as a means to check that tendency, a further extension of rural credits. The example of Denmark appeals strongly to him, concerning which he says:

In Denmark the purchaser of a small agricultural holding can borrow from a state fund ninety per cent of the cost of the land, and on this loan he pays but four per cent annually, three per cent being credited to interest, and the remaining one per cent to the principal. Such a system facilitates wonerfully the ownership of small farmsteads by peasant proprietors.

Unfortunately there is evidence that the Danish peasants have found a lack of something vital in this scheme. The Copenhagen correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor, made this clear in a letter that appeared in a recent issue. The low interest rates enable land owners to exact higher prices from the small purchasers, or make it possible for the purchasers to exact unearned gains when selling to others. So the organized small farmers of Denmark have long demanded the application of the Single Tax, concerning which The Christian Science Monitor's correspondent remarks:

Henry George would have been delighted to see the attempt, which is now proposed to apply his ideas in an undiluted form.

But Governor Whitman does not hesitate to add to his recommendation a suggestion to proceed along similar lines, at least to some extent. He says:

"Another wise policy which they have followed is a plan of exempting such holdings from taxation, and this, too, has proved a conspicuous success, and perhaps some plan of this character would work well with us. It has been proposed for instance, to exempt from taxation all the man-made improvements of farm land, the orchards and woodlands, the fences, the builings, the flocks, the herds and machinery, levying our rural taxes only on the bare land values, always provided that the farm is adequately worked. Such a policy would of necessity resultd in taxes slightly higher on bare and idle land, but, to the enterprising working farmer, it would mean a substantial reduction in his taxes for any slight increase which he might pay on his land and would be more than offset by exempting his buildings and his personal property. It certainly seems wiser to penalize the agricultural slacker who leaves his land idle and unworked than to discourage the real farmer, the farmer who is rising to his responsibilities and doing his share to feed the nation, by penalizing him thru the tax rolls for every improvement which he makes, every sign of prosperity which he shows, every contribution which he makes to meet the national emergency with which we are now confronted."

This plan, Governor Whitman further explained, was offered not for immediate action but for careful consideration. Altho this comes as an anti-climax, it would be unfair to attribute it to political caution. It is but little more than a year since the governor, in his campaign for re-election, denounced his opponent, Judge Seabury, for advocacy of the very principle to which he now gives a qualified approval. That alone is evidence of progress not only in the economic education of Governor Whitman, but in general acceptance of the idea which he suggests. And for this encouragement Governor Whitman deserves commendation.

"The Heavyweights" : : By WALT MASON

Fred Fulton is a bruiser great, as large and stately as an Alp; he's whipped full many a beery skate, who hoped to bear away his scalp. He says he'll harvest Willard's pelt, and change that figiter's name to Panee, and bear away the champeen's belt; I wonder why he's not in France? This Willard is a mighty man, who'll take some whipping, I suppose; he made the smoke an also ran, and has a kick to all his blows. I don't believe he'll lose to Fred, unless by some unhappy chance; he uses both his fist and head. I wonder why he's not in France. Both men are of heroic build, they're perfect fighters when they're fit; and it is said they both are filled with forty kinds of pep and grit. And they will meet some day, I ween, to fight, with pomp and circumstance, for packages of good long green; I wonder why they're not in France. I've heard of Willard's wondrous reach, how he can hit around a block; and I should judge, from Fulton's speech, that he can scrap as well as talk. Until they've fought they'll spiel and yell, and red hot arguments advance; if they can fight so wildly well, I wonder why they're not in France.

SPOKANE, WASH., MAY 1.—The low long skirt style edict is believed to be the cause of the demand of the Good Government League that the Spokane Street Car company lower the steps on its cars.

E SEEKS DISSOLUTION OF ALLIANCE

COLUMBUS O MAY 2—Attorney General McGhee, of Ohio, today was instructed to begin at once proceedings to dissolve all German-American Alliances in operation in Ohio and to have their charters declared null and void. The request came from J A White, state superintendent of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League, and in a letter to the attorney general cited the authority under which the attorney general may proceed.

White, quoting from the articles of incorporation of the various alliances, shows that they are for, first

"To maintain and defend German ideals," which, he says, means spreading of German propaganda, and, second

"To oppose local option and prohibition of the liquor traffic," and, third

"To influence political conventions, political elections and appointments."

Whether Attorney General McGhee will take action in the matter was not made known this afternoon.

CATHOLICS IN IRELAND ARE ADMONISHED

The resolution adds:

"We regard with serious misgivings any ecclesiastical interference in questions purely temporal and political that are in no way connected with faith and morale."

GLASS OF SALTS CLEAN KIDNEYS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get mad and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning or a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

KAISER DODGES RESPONSIBILITY OF SLAUGHTER

(International News Service)

PARIS, MAY 2—The German offensive on the western front, was opposed by the kaiser according to the well-known correspondent, Andrew Glaner, who has just returned from Spain, where he interviewed a high official newly arrived from Germany.

This official was quoted as saying that if the allies can hold out against the Germans in the north of France and the French can hold at Verdun then Germany is beaten.

It was stated further by the informant that Hindenburg planned to take Amiens and get within artillery range of Paris by May 1.

Unless Hindenburg, Ludendorff and the crown prince achieve success by May 15, continued the official, the Kaiser's position will be made stronger by reason of the fact that he opposed the drive.

Asked what would be the next move if the Germans failed, the reply was that Prince Von Buelow probably would be restored to power as premier and that he might launch a new peace move which "might be acceptable."

The official confirmed reports that the economic situation in the Central powers is serious.

GERMAN HOLDS WOMAN ON LEVEL OF DOG OR HORSE, DECLARES WASHINGTON SPEAKER IN ADDRESS BEFORE FEDERATION OF CLUBS

(International News Service)

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., MAY 2—The German thinks of woman as little nearer than his horse or dog. American women must leap to the colors and form a solid second line of defense behind their fighting men."

This was the gist of a ringing address by Mrs. W. S. McCready, president of the Washington State Federation of Women's Clubs at today's meeting of the National Federation of Women's clubs, which opened here yesterday for a twelve-day session.

Quoting Otto Kahn, she declared, "Germany is Faust. She has made a devil's bargain with her people; in return for certain creative comforts she demands the surrender of their souls." Her address follows:

The club women of Washington State are facing the present national crisis squarely. They hope also to play a leading part in helping non-club women to do the same.

"First of all they have given their son. They recognize that in doing this they have done a colossal deed, but that is not enough. Having given them they are resolved to back them up not with tears and laments, but with confidence and smiles. As a young soldier said: "You may feel the respect that is back of you, then you can act with confidence."

"The club women of Washington want the men from Washington to feel they are the second line of defense; that they will hold firm, however hard the pull, or however long the trial of endurance may be.

"Because of the wisdom of her men in granting equal suffrage to the women in 1911 she was prepared to perform most efficient service when war was declared. Men and women accept equally their responsibilities and are co-workers in all war campaigns with unity of purpose, the women sharing in the success of all war work.

"Perhaps the greatest war service rendered our Government is in giving her sons a clean dry State to train for military service. With State-wide prohibition and the enforcement of the injunction and Red Light Abatement Law, military inspectors report that as to location, sanitation, health and morality the training camps in Washington stand at the very apex.

"The State Federation of Women's Clubs decided early in the war that their imperative duty was in keeping up the physical, mental, moral and spiritual standard of the men in the training camps. A moral-sanitation committee was appointed to co-operate with army and municipal officials, and the heartiest co-operation prevails. With Camp Lewis, one of the largest cantonments, seven forts, naval training school, navy yard and aviation school, this committee has been very useful and active.

"Clubhouses are open in all cities and towns adjacent to military camps with hostesses in charge. The man in uniform is welcome at any time. Here he meets his women friends under the most favorable environment. Entertainments of a wholesome character that appeal to the young men, such as recitals and dancing, are arranged by the committee, club women acting as chaperons for the girls, taking them to and from the dances in automobiles. Sometimes the soldiers reverse things and invite the hostesses to bring their young women to the barracks, where they play the part of host. Everywhere homes are thrown open for the entertainment of soldiers from other states, for they want these men to carry in their hearts the memory of these American homes for which they are fighting.

"Washington women have gone over the top in Red Cross, Liberty Bonds, food conservation, libraries, community recreation, civilian relief, et cetera. All this they have set their hand to and their hearts are set on a purpose even beyond this—a purpose to understand first of all the rightousness of our cause and the menace to all Christian ideals involved in the kultur of our enemy, and then to help the women as a whole to grasp this essential conviction as the menace to all that women hold dear. We are opposed to a nation whose average citizen surrenders his children to the will of the state; that demands of its men the surrender, not of life alone but conscience and soul as well."

VINOL MAKES GOOD BLOOD

Positive—Convincing Proof

Many so-called remedies for anaemia are only so in name. Their makers are afraid to prove their claims by telling what their medicines contain.

The only way to be honest with the people is to let them know what they are paying for. Here is the Vinol formula. When the doctor knows what a medicine contains, it ceases to be a "patent" medicine.

Ry Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycerophosphates, Cascarin.

Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol, as named above, will enrich the blood and banish anaemia and create strength. When the blood is pure and rich and red, the body is strong and robust.

You can prove this at our expense because your money will be returned if Vinol does not improve your health.

THE GARABED

NO GARDEN B' D.

I have no doubt that you have read of this invention Garabed, the marvelous new motor. It's said to marshal all the force which earth engenders in its course as planetary floater. We're told that this gigantic scheme will take the place of gas and steam and the electric current; that it will give resist- less power and cause the whole wide earth to flower with force beyond deterrent. Our railroad trains and trolley cars will flit around like shooting stars and run by intuition. Our airplanes too will rule the blue and with a strength entirely new hurl tons of ammunition. A single airship fitted out with this great force will move about as its chauffeur determines; with force of 30,000 horse, relentless and without remorse, 'twill wreck the rave of Germans In other words the new found pow- er will cause us all to thank the hour that gave us this in- vention, and when we speak of wondrous things the weird re- sults this motor brings will be the first we'll men- tion. Yet I will say, between us two, no matter what the thing will do, it has its limita- tion. It will not take the place of food with which to feed your little brood, nor keep you from starvation. It may run train and ship and shop, but it won't let you skip nor stop providing for your table. If you believe that Garabed will grow the stuff on which you're fed you're victim of a fable. You've got to work and hustle round to get your food from out the ground, or else you will regret it; the Garabed won't take the place of Garden Bed to feed the race Don't let yourself forget it. Write the National War Gar- den Commission, Washington, D. C., for its complete manual on home gardening. It's free for 2-cent stamp for postage.

143 O.V.I. PITCHED CAMP HERE FIFTY FOUR YEARS AGO

Statement From Mystic Manager

I know the general public is not interested in any private business matter, and I have no desire to get into a newspaper controversy, but in protection to myself, and my many American friends I desire to make this statement regarding the showing of Mary Pickford's "Stella Maris" at the Pastime Theatre, Tuesday night.

To begin with, all Pickford features such as "Little American," "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," etc., are always shown at least two or three days at the Mystic to packed houses. If this feature was honestly booked by the Pastime, why for only one day, and why without any advance advertising, posters lithographs or "front" of any kind?

I can't blame my patrons who are always looking for the best in pictures, on seeing a local sign painters banner advertising "Stella Maris" for going in, altho nearly everyone thot it was a fake and stayed away, knowing I had the contracts for all Artcraft and Paramount pictures.

You understand that in running Mary Pickford, Marguerite Clark, Douglas Fairbanks, Wm. S. Hart, Dorothy Dalton Charles Ray and the many other stars on these programs, I cannot run Mary Pickford every week, but I keep up with the program as speedily as possible.

The Pastime Theatre had no more legal or moral right to show this picture than the Mystic would have to go to the express office and take a film addressed to the Pastime and run it at the Mystic.

Could I have been able to get in touch with the Artcraft office in time the picture would have been stopped by injunction, as it is the Paramount-Artcraft people have instructed me to prosecute for damages with their full backing.

Remember all Artcraft and Paramount pictures, first, second, or any run are under contract to me, and do not be fooled again by underhand methods.

Very truly yours,
CARL R. HERBIG,
Mgr. Mystic Theatre

JAYNES HELD FOR CRIMINAL LIBEL

PHOENIX, ARIZ., MAY 2.—Allen B. Jaynes, Republican National Committeeman from Arizona, is out on bond today following a warrant sworn out for his arrest by Governor W. P. Hunt, who charges Jaynes with criminal libel. Jaynes is editor of the Tucson Citizen.

During the incumbency of Governor Thomas Campbell, Jaynes was appointed to the national council of defense. When Hunt won in his contest against Campbell, Jaynes resigned, but his resignation was not accepted until two weeks ago when the Citizen took issue with the attitude assumed by the state board of health.

Following acceptance of his resignation, Jaynes addressed a letter to Governor Hunt, which is alleged to have represented the executive as not wholly in sympathy with the war.

Jaynes, upon learning of the issuance of a warrant yesterday, visited the sheriffs office and furnished bond.

AUSTRIAN ARMY IS DESERTED BY CZECH TROOPERS

LONDON, MAY 2.—Bohemian and Czech troops are deserting the Austra-Hungarian army on the Italian front and are joining the Italians.

A despatch from Italian headquarters today said that the Austro-Hungarian commanders are much disturbed over the situation, fearing the influence of the desertions.

Other advices told of a megaphone conversation between Czechs in the Italian army with others in the Austro-Hungarian army. The latter were urged to join the Italians but replied they were afraid they would be fired upon by the Slavs from behind. The Italian artillery the nbarraged the Hungarians while the Czechs crossed over.
